FUNDS AVAILABLE TO IMPROVE SAFETY ON MN FARMS.

New program can make grain bin safety more affordable.

Farmers in Minnesota who want to add safety equipment to their on-farm grain storage facilities can now apply for the Minnesota Department of Agriculture's new Grain Storage Facility Safety Cost-Share program.

This program reimburses up to 75% of the cost to buy, ship and install eligible safety equipment for on-farm grain bins or silos. Examples of some eligible equipment include fall protection systems, dust collection systems, personal protective equipment, grain silo air quality monitoring equipment and other grain storage facility safety equipment with prior approval from the MDA. Applications are being accepted through June 30, 2021, or until all funds are exhausted. The MDA will award the funds on a first come, first-served basis.
